

New Guinea
March 5 1945

My darling Mama:

This shall be a brief note as it is rather late and I must hit to bed. I've been pretty busy the past few days and I haven't written much – Right now we are receiving Ammo – have about 8 trucks waiting & rain falls – Smith shall oversee from now to morning. We had to attend another Base officers' meeting tonight. Last night we went to the ordnance officer dance – dates with nurses had only a fair time.

Best of persons tomorrow night I shall write a coherent letter.

The enclosed snapshots are among the ones taken last July – we had extra prints made & it took all this time to get them. I waited less than thou as any time before or since, and you can see from them that I look pretty husky.

I certainly adore you

Your loving son,

John Harrod